CLAUDE LAPALME | MUSIC DIRECTOR

2025 - 2026
SEASON

About the RDSO

Established in 1987 by a group of dedicated and enthusiastic music lovers, the Red Deer Symphony Orchestra (RDSO) has become central Alberta's flagship professional performing arts organization.

Skillfully led by a volunteer Board of Directors, the RDSO is a community-oriented organization committed to inspiring appreciation for art and culture in central Alberta through high-calibre performances and public outreach programs.

Celebrating his 36th year as our Music Director, Maestro Claude Lapalme sets the artistic and musical direction for the orchestra's journey while the RDSO musicians and staff do the important work of bringing the music to our community.

The sustainability of the RDSO relies on the continued support of its members, volunteers, staff, musicians, and community, in addition to multiple local, provincial, and national funding agencies.

We Need YOU!

Do you love live music and believe in building community?

As your local destination for world-class artistry, RDSO needs your help to keep our music alive! We are now accepting applications to fill vacancies on RDSO's Board of Directors and various committees. RDSO followers with skill and experience in business, performing arts, education, marketing, fund development, and event planning are strongly encouraged to join us at this exciting time in the RDSO's development.

The RDSO Board meets, at minimum, six times per year to discuss strategy, objectives, and other policy decisions in support of operations, programs, and production. Each Director participates in at least one of the RDSO committees, which meet with a frequency that relates to their activities. The RDSO Board and Committee activities are supported by staff and volunteers.

The 2025 Nominations deadline is September 18, 2025. Elections will be held at the Annual General Meeting on September 25, 2025.

Volunteering with the RDSO provides a fantastic learning and networking opportunity while giving back to a worthwhile local arts charity. To learn more about volunteering with the RDSO, please connect with our office.
